

WOMEN WILL AGAIN SEEK CHAIN GANG

Renewed efforts to force the board of supervisors to put lazy husbands to work on county roads is to be launched tomorrow by Mrs. H. J. Platts and Mrs. R. C. Young, who have been urging this method of handling delinquent husbands. Both women have interviewed Judge F. B. Ogden and District Attorney W. H. L. Hines, and claim to have the support of both officials.

At present there are but five men in the county jail for non-support of their families. Yesterday Superior Judge Ogden gave James Dryer a two-year term. With the five in jail, it is urged that fifty more can be sentenced and a gang organized to do roadwork.

The supervisors have taken the position that there is little work the men can do that would not have to be done over again, that it would be unsatisfactory labor in any event, and that the expense of maintaining guards and a commissary to feed them while away from jail would be excessive.

Already a scheme of planting vegetables has been proposed. It is believed that some action will be taken tomorrow.

ROADS ADVERTISE

NEW YORK, March 21.—Three hundred thousand dollars was spent by the railroads in newspaper advertising during the recent eight-hour controversy with their men, but not the $3,000,000 that brotherhood leaders charged before Congress was so employed. It was announced here today by Frank H. Fayant, who is in charge of publicity for the national conference committee of the railroads. Complete accounts made up, he said, showed that $295,000 was used for advertising, "or a little more than $1 for every mile of railroad in the country."

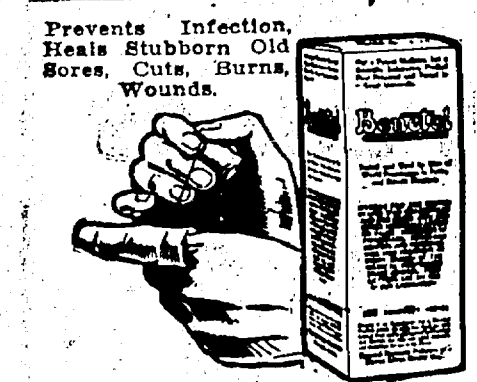

"We did not use newspaper advertising until the brotherhood announced they would refuse arbitration and would resort to a nation-wide strike," Fayant said.

RISE AGAINST TURKS

LONDON, March 21.—Another important chieftain in Arabia has risen against the Turks. Foreign Secretary Balfour announced in the House of Commons today. The Turkish force near Aden has been isolated from Turkish headquarters.

POMERENE DISCUSSES CRISIS

CONCORD, N. H., March 21.—"President Wilson has been backed to the wall by Germany, but he is not willing to be backed through the wall," said Senator Alice Pomerene of Ohio in an address at a Jackson day banquet here.

Automobile Dealers of Northern California Gather in Oakland to Attend State Meeting

SCENE AT LAST EVENING'S BANQUET IN OAKLAND WHICH WAS GIVEN BY THE ALAMEDA COUNTY AUTOMOBILE TRADES ASSOCIATION TO THE STATE ASSOCIATION AT THE CLOSE OF THE BUSINESS MEET HERE YESTERDAY. THIS BANQUET ATTENDED BY 141 AUTOMOBILE DEALERS REPRESENTING THE ORGANIZATION IN PRACTICALLY EVERY CITY OF IMPORTANCE IN NORTHERN CALIFORNIA. DEALERS CAME FROM AS FAR SOUTH AS VISALIA TO ATTEND THIS EVENT.

By EDMUND CRINNION.

As a fitting climax to the most successful meeting in its history, the California Automobile Trade Association, as the guest of the Alameda County Automobile Trade Association, enjoyed a banquet last night at the Key Route Inn. The evening's festivities came at the close of the state meeting, which was in session here yesterday, and at which much was accomplished in the nature of a better understanding and pledges of hearty support from the jobbers to the garage men and dealers.

The meeting was said to be most successful in both point of attendance and also the work accomplished. H. F. Parnell of Stockton had charge of the meeting, yesterday, aided by Bob Martland of Oakland, who is secretary of the State Association.

It was pointed out by many in attendance at yesterday's meeting that it seemed but fitting that the meeting of the state organization which finally brought the dealers and garage men and jobbers together should be held in Oakland, which is the home city of the movement started some three years ago toward that end by the local association.

The banquet, which marked the close of the state meet, was attended by exactly 141 members. It was the biggest get-together meeting ever held in this city. O. Riehl of the H. O. Harrison Company, officiated as toastmaster. Addresses were made by President Parnell, H. F. Clarrage, H. Panta, and Bob Martland.

Pledges of support from Santa Rosa to Oakland on the Luther Burbank day were given by Walter H. Nagle of Santa Rosa Chamber of Commerce, who stated that an excursion would be run from Santa Rosa to Oakland on the coming occasion, and Nagle also extended an invitation to the residents of Oakland and the members of the automobile associations to visit Santa Rosa during the month of May, when the twenty-eighth annual rose carnival of Santa Rosa will be held. Invitations to the local auto dealers were extended by the Stockton dealers to attend the coming automobile show in the city of Stockton.

At the conclusion of the talks the entertainment of the evening started and the affair lasted well toward the early hours. Among the members at the banquet were:

"PET" PORCUPINE WASN'T RAISED TO BE PETTED

HAYWARD, March 21.—What is a porcupine?
A porcupine, children, is a perfectly harmless old thing of the Genus Erethizontidae. In other words, it is a large rodent having sharp erectile spines which readily, too readily, become detached. Safety first precautions prescribe that the porcupine be not caressed even though he is a pet.

Perhaps Miss E. O. Jensen and Miss Gertrude Freitas, teachers of the Hayward grammar school, feel like giving the foregoing definition of the porcupine in a zoological lesson to their classes, after a visit to a couple at the Hayward State Game Farm. Superintendent William Dirks permitted the teachers to approach the formidable rodents closely in order to closely observe their spines. But the fair pedagogues had not calculated the range of a porcupine's spines, which extended suddenly. The two carried momentoes of the surprise attack in the shape of several porcupine spines.

According to advice from Washington Secretary Daniels has named a special naval board to determine the overhead charges to be paid by the government for the construction of the battle cruisers recently contracted for on the basis of actual cost plus 10 per cent profit to the private builders. The members are Chief Constructors David W. Taylor and Washington L. Capps, Civil Engineer Harry H. Rousseau, Engineer-in-Chief Robert S. Griffin and Pay Inspector David Potter.

The principal American copper producers have agreed to furnish copper needed for the army and navy during the coming year at 16 and a fraction cents a pound, about one-half of the current market price. Forty-five million pounds is to be delivered.

MARE ISLAND YARD TO BUILD CHASERS

Mare Island navy yard will be called upon to build at least twenty submarine chasers immediately as a part of the navy department's emergency plans in expectation of the issuance by President Wilson's proclamation that a state of war exists between the United States and Germany. This was learned today when orders were received from Washington for the commandant to telegraph at once the number of boats that can be built here without delay.

Bremerton, Portsmouth, Boston, Charleston and other yards will probably be designated for the construction of chasers.

The chasers will be 110 feet long and capable of making long cruises at 35 knots or more an hour. They will have steam instead of gasoline engines.

How Publicity Helped Mrs. Thomas to Health

Doctor Had Decried Operation When She Read of Mrs. Dunlap's Experience

Some time ago Mrs. R. C. Dunlap of DeKalb, Mo., wrote to the St. Joseph, Mo., News-Press, telling how, after years of suffering with stomach trouble, she had been relieved of a quantity of gall stones and restored to health through using Fruita and Traxo. This letter was published and read by Mrs. Georgia C. Thomas of Lancaster, Mo., who had been told by her doctor after months of treatment for similar trouble, that nothing but an operation would save her. Mrs. Thomas obtained Fruita and Traxo from the drug store, and says "My doctor after months of treatment for similar trouble, that nothing but an operation would save her. Mrs. Thomas obtained Fruita and Traxo from the drug store, and says "My doctor after months of treatment for similar trouble, that nothing but an operation would save her. Mrs. Thomas obtained Fruita and Traxo from the drug store, and says "My doctor after months of treatment for similar trouble, that nothing but an operation would save her."

Fruita and Traxo are compounded from the original Edsall formulas at the Pinus Laboratories in Monticello, Ill., and can be purchased in drug stores; a doctor's prescription is not necessary. Fruita is a pure fruit oil that acts as an intestinal lubricant and disintegrates the hardened particles that cause so much suffering, discharging the accumulated waste to the sufferer's intense relief. One dose is usually sufficient to indicate its efficacy. Traxo is a tonic-alternative that is most effective to rebuild and restore the weakened, rundown system.

A booklet of special interest to those who suffer from stomach trouble can be obtained by writing to the Pinus Laboratories, Monticello, Illinois.

HOLDS FARMERS

BERLIN, March 21.—To prevent any further exodus of agricultural workers from the farms to highly paid jobs in the munition factories, the following appeal signed by the Director of Civil and Military Supplies, General Groener, has been placed in the hands of the farmers.

"Agricultural work is a patriotic auxiliary service. Our brothers at the front in the factories and homes rely on you. Be proud of this. He who runs away from the plough to the town for the sake of earning a few pence more is a deserter. Hold back such workings by example and word."

DRUG-CRAZED SLAYS TWO IN BATTLE

VANCOUVER, B. C., March 21.—Chief of Police Malcolm P. MacLennan, George Rolph, a 9-year-old boy, and Robert Tait, a negro, are dead and two police of Vancouver were wounded as a result of an attempt by the police to capture Tait. The chief and the boy were both killed in the first rush on the negro's house early in the evening. The police effected an entrance at 11:10 p. m., four hours later, only to find Tait dead.

The call for Tait's arrest came from his landlord, who declared that the negro, who was a drug addict and well known to the police, had assaulted him. As the chief and his squad came in sight of the house at the corner of Jackson avenue and Harris street the negro opened fire, his first shot striking the Rolph boy, who died half an hour later.

When the police, led by the chief, attempted to rush the house, the negro continued firing, and the chief fell wounded inside the doorway, while two of the others, Detective Cameron and Constable Johnson, received wounds about the head. They withdrew, remaining in ignorance whether the chief was killed or not. He was found on the second assault on the house, with his head half shot off.

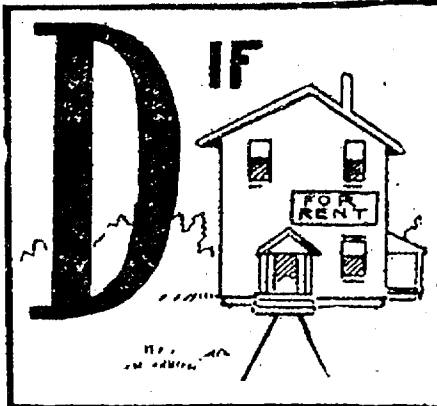

The dead negro was found armed with a shotgun and an automatic revolver. It is uncertain whether he committed suicide or was killed by shots from the attackers.

Frankie Russell, a negro woman who has lived with Tait as his wife for the past four years, was found in the house uninjured and was immediately taken into custody. She is held on a charge of murder. Both she and Tait are said by the police to have been crazed by drugs at the time of the shooting.

CALOMEL MAKES YOU SICK, UGH!

"Dodson's Liver Tone," Better Than Calomel and Cannot Salivate.

Calomel loses you a day! You know what calomel is. It's mercury, quicksilver. Calomel is dangerous. It crashes into your bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system. Don't take Calomel! It makes you sick the next day; it loses you a day's work. Dodson's Liver Tone straightens you right up and you feel great. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and doesn't gripe. When you feel bilious, sluggish, constipated and all knocked out and believe you need a dose of dangerous calomel just remember that your druggist sells for 50 cents a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone, which is entirely vegetable and pleasant to take and it is a perfect substitute for calomel. It is guaranteed to start your liver without stirring you up inside and can not salivate.—Advertisement.

Clear your skin! Make your face a business asset

That skin-trouble may be more than a source of suffering and embarrassment—it may be holding you back in the business world, keeping you out of a better job for which a good appearance is required. Why "take a chance" when

Resinol

Ointment heals skin-eruptions so easily, it is so simple and economical to use? It has such a record of success that you need not hesitate to try it, even though you have used other treatments with little or no success.

Resinol Ointment is sold by druggists everywhere.

Dandruff Surely Destroys the Hair

Girls—if you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.—Advertisement.

CREAM FOR CATARRH OPENS UP NOSTRILS

Tells How To Get Quick Relief from Head-Colds. It's Splendid!

In one minute your clogged nostrils will open, the air passages of your head will clear and you can breathe freely. No more hawking, snuffling, blowing, headache, dryness. No struggling for breath at night; your cold or catarrh will be gone.

Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist now. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic, healing cream in your nostrils. It penetrates through every air passage of the head, soothes the inflamed or swollen mucous membrane and relief comes instantly.

It's just fine. Don't stay stuffed up with a cold or nasty catarrh—Relief comes so quickly.—Advertisement.

OLD-TIME COLD CURE—DRINK TEA!

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it "Hamburger Brust Thee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teaspoon full at any time. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking a cold at once.

It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore harmless.—Advertisement.

Earle Williams (an Oakland Boy) in "ARSENE LUPIN" at the New T. & D.

It is the story of a thief whose charm and manner is only equaled by the society in which he moves, and is told in pictures today until Saturday with Earle Williams in the leading role, at the New T. & D., Eleventh street at Broadway. A modern society drama that grips like a magnet.

The first of the "Seven Deadly Sins" stories comes on the same program. Malotte—that wizard of organ technique—plays at each performance an excerpt from "Samson et Delilah." One week today Pauline Frederick in "Sappho." Make a note of it.

PRINCE SEATED AT CONFERENCE

ATHENS, March 21.—Crown Prince George of Greece has been present at each of the numerous councils of the kingdom as well as the cabinet council presided over by the king. It is in government circles that the life of King Constantine is in constant peril; and it is held the part of wisdom to keep the heir to the throne as far as possible from the current business of the kingdom as possible.

Twenty-six and a half years old, the Duke of Sparta, title which in Greece, corresponds to Prince of Wales in Great Britain, has been educated almost entirely as a soldier. He began at the earliest possible age as a common soldier and has reached the rank of major of infantry actively with the distinction in the two Balkan wars and of "King Constantine" is in constant danger of assassination since September 24, 1915, he has been on active duty with his regiment more than he has been with his family. At the time of the mobilization his regiment was sent to Saloniki, and he remained there until with the Entente Allies forced the Greek troops to leave Saloniki at the end of 1915. It has only been in the last six months that he has been actively associated with the details of political developments in Greece, to be prepared for any emergency.

Although he is not married, Crown Prince George has a "house" of his own in Athens. Outside of the palace, the collection of what he calls "junk" antiques, not of ancient Greece but of the intervening days and especially of Italian things of the fourteenth and fifteenth centuries.

The Crown Prince is much shorter than either his father or his uncle, Prince Andrew, both of whom stand over six feet. He is a stocky young man, well planted on his feet, a little slow to move, but not easy to stop, once started.

He speaks English and French with certain embellishments of American slang. The whole Greek royal family talks English in preference to the native tongue. The American vice-consul general, Geo. P. Waller, Jr., is about the age of Crown Prince George, and the two are great friends.

"The prince is more like an American just on a whole than a Greek or even than a Dane—which he is by family, of course," says Mr. Waller. "There are thousands of him in the United States, straightforward, frank, hard-working chaps, who will make their names in America."

MEN CHASED FIVE MILES ON DESERT

LOS ANGELES, March 21.—A five-mile chase across the desert after two passengers who jumped from the train at Bagdad, Cal., while according to the crew of the train which arrived here late last night, they were undoubtedly killed, delayed the Santa Fe train "The Missionary" yesterday, three and a half hours yesterday while members of the crew pursued and finally overtook the fugitives.

The men's names were given as M. J. Melghan, an oil operator of Midwick, Pa., and R. D. Melghan, who also of Midwick. After the men had finally been caught by the train crew, the elder Melghan refused to turn, according to William Farley, conductor, and William F. Tiffin, engineer, who led the chase. The Melghans were left in care of special agents of the Santa Fe, who joined in the chase, and will be brought to Los Angeles tomorrow.

The daughter of the station agent at Bagdad, witnessing the chase and knowing the nature of the desert country into which the men were fleeing, provided herself with canteens and followed the pursued and pursuers into the canyons, which is of a volcanic formation, and gave the men water to quench their thirst.

Gonzales was freed on $10,000 bail and Hinojosa $500. They were arrested by federal agents Saturday.

NEW MINISTRY TO WAGE HARDER WAR

PARIS, March 21.—The new ministry of Alexandre Ribot made its declaration today, pledging itself to carry on the war with all possible energy. The declaration, which was read in the Chamber by Premier Ribot and in the Senate by Rebe Viviani, minister of justice, opens with the affirmation:

"We are resolved to wage with the utmost vigor and to a victorious end the terrible war into which we were drawn by inexorable aggression. We shall wage it not as our enemies, in a spirit of conquest and domination, but with the firm resolve to restore the provinces formerly wrested from us and obtain reparation and guarantee for the future peace, founded on respect for the rights and liberties of peoples."

The declaration refers to the retirement of the Germans on the French front, which it says is "without doubt a prelude to other battles in which the enemy will exhaust his last resources."

RETREAT OF GERMANS TO MASK DRIVE

By John Grandens. United Press Staff Correspondent.

BERLIN, via wireless to the United Press, March 21.—Germany is retreating to a victory; another master stroke has been achieved by Field Marshal Von Hindenburg, and the entente's plans for a great spring offensive have been destroyed.

This, in brief, is the official explanation given for the first time today to the United Press of Germany's retirement on the western front.

Germany is retreating to a victory because her armies are taking their places in positions long prepared. Those positions embody the newest lessons of the war. They will force the enemy to learn the trade all over again. They would astound tacticians if their full details were revealed, according to German officials.

They may effect a transformation of the entire character of the war.

COUNTRY IS CLEARED. In the meantime Germany has been clearing the whole country in front of these new positions. They are miles back of the present line. The whole country intervening between the old German line and the new one has, by necessity of war and necessity of the new German plans, been made a wilderness. Roads have been destroyed, the whole terrain has been made difficult for the enemy. All means of communication have been effected. Some villages have been utterly destroyed. Some have been only partly wrecked. Not only has the zone of fire been cleared by such a procedure, but the enemy must come forward slowly over ground so hazardous of passage.

In their new positions the German forces will face the enemy either hurriedly brought up over this difficult wilderness and because of this hurry insufficiently supplied, or an enemy which has come forward very slowly because of necessity of building up the country.

FORCES ENTRENCHED. In either event the enemy would be at a disadvantage. Months of toil by a million German soldiers have been expended in preparing the new German line. The German forces will be entrenched at the strongest possible defenses, protected by forests of barbed wire entanglements. A few fire zones in front of them clear the view of the enemy. Guns have been carefully ranged all over this field. The enemy must come up; must dig "trenches"; must manage transport of millions of tons of ammunition, of food and of supplies over the wilderness left behind by the Germans in their retreat. The allies will find it impossible to clear the ground of the enemy's positions, and protected as an army was never protected before by long preparations.

It has been impossible to carry out this program of a retreat leaving behind a wilderness without severe hardship to the French civilian inhabitants. But the move is demanded.

Officials also point out that the new line selected by the German army chiefs is not one picked haphazard. The battle of the Marne, which was unfavorable to Germany, forced German troops to make the retreat wherever they could, irrespective of natural advantages. They have had to withstand many months of pressure by entente troops since that time. Therefore, the old line was not taken up because of special strategic agencies.

The new line lies in the position where engineers and strategical experts have chosen every feature of topography as an aid. All natural advantages have been utilized and developed.

ADVANCE DIFFICULT. All this change comes at the very point where Germany's enemies had planned a new spring offensive—and an offensive back this time with redoubled power. The French and British had planned to take the initiative from the old positions which they had perfected.

The German withdrawal secure for Germany the initiative for the fighting, while putting their enemies at a disadvantage because they will lack prepared positions.

As officials here express it—the entente troops must now go forward over desolate fields into uncertainty, facing, unknown, the sinister possibilities of the latest master stroke of Hindenburg.

German experts think weeks will pass before the allies can strike at the bulwarks of the new system. Even before this strike they will be compelled to make enormous sacrifices.

German soldiers have labored like ants to change the face of the country. Not only will Germany have the advantage of a carefully prepared line in her new move, but army officers pointed out today through shortening her front, Germany can save her offensive power. That saving may be of decisive importance in future operations to follow very soon.

The shortened line will free a large number of troops. Not only will Germany have these men—but the victorious army which conquered Rumania is likewise free.

PARIS, March 21.—Ten additional villages were occupied by the French forces in further progress north and northeast of Soissons and to the left of Laon road today's official statement announced.

MAY EXTEND RETREAT. AMSTERDAM, March 21.—Activity behind the German lines between La Basse and the Franco-Belgian frontier indicates that the Teutonic retreat may extend to the eastward, from a point "somewhere in Northern France" today.

BERLIN, March 21.—The determined offensive launched by the French on the Macedonian front for the first time of the German and Bulgarian armies.

German military critics, in reviewing the Balkan situation today, declared that the attacks of the French between Prespa and Ochrida lakes and on the heights north of Monastir have all been directed toward crumpling up the Bulgarian and Teutonic lines and compelling a retreat of the German allies toward Priple and the Orient railway.

Clipped Wings

By RUPERT HUGHES

Mrs. Vining smiled indulgently and went on with her lines. The applause broke out and continued while she and Mr. Tuell conducted a dumb-show. Then an abrupt silence fell just in time to emphasize the banality of her next speech.

"You ask of Claribel? Speaking of angels, here she comes now."

At the sound of her name, the actress summoned clutched the cross-piece of the flat that hid her from the audience. She longed for courage to run away. But actors do not run away, and she made ready to dance out on the stage and rush her brilliant first line: "Oh, Auntie, there you are, I've been looking for you everywhere."

She had always hated the entrance because of its bustling unimportance. It was exciting enough to-night. No sooner had Mrs. Vining announced her name than there was a surge of joy from the mob.

"Oh, girls, here comes Claribel!"

Some one stood up and yelled, "Three hearty cheers and a tigress for Claribel!"

She fell back into the wings as the clamor arose. But she had been seen and admired. There was a hurricane of protest against her retreat.

"Come on in, Claribel, the water's fine!" "Don't leave the old farm, Claribel, we need you!" "Peekaboo! I see you hiding behind the chair."

Each of the mutineers shrieked something that he thought was funny, and laughed at it without heeding what else was shouted. The result was deafening.

Eugene Vickery's heart was set a-tingling at the glimpse of Sheila Kemble. The sight of her name on the program had revived his boyhood memories of her. He rose to protest against the hazing of a young girl, especially one whose tradition was so sweet in his remembrance, but he was in the back of the house and his cry of "Shame!" was lost in the uproar, merely adding to it instead of quelling it.

Bret Winfield in a stage box had seen Sheila in the wings for some minutes before her entrance. He knew nothing of her part but her beauty pleased him thoroughly, and that he was sorry to see how scared she was when she retreated.

He saw also how plucky she was, for, angered by the unchivalry of the mob, she marched forth, again like a young Amazon. At the full sight of her the Freshmen united in a huge noise of kisses and murmurs of "Fun-yum!" and cries of "Me for Claribel!" "Say, that's some gal!" "Name and address, please!" "I saw her first!" "Second havers!" "Mamma, buy me that!" She was called, teased, a peaching, a pippin, a peach, a swell skirt—anything that occurred to the unimpaired.

Sheila felt as if she was struck by a billow. Her own color swept past the bounds of the theatrical business she had painted on her cheeks. She came out again and began her line: "Oh, auntie!"

"It was as if, echo had gone into hysterics. Two hundred voices mocked her: "Oh, auntie!" "Oh, auntie!" "Oh, auntie!"

She wanted to laugh, she wanted to cry, she wanted to run, she wanted to fight. She wished that the whole throng had but one ear, that she might box it.

The stage-manager was shrieking from the wings: "Go on! Don't stop for anything!"

She continued her words with an effect of pantomime. The responses were made against a surfeit of noise.

Then Eric Fehwell, who played the hero, came on. He was handsome, and knew it. He was a trifle over-graceful, and his evening coat fitted his perfect figure almost too perfectly. He was met with pitiless questions of efficiency. "Oh, Claribel!" "Say, Lizzie, are you busy?" "Won't somebody slap the brute on the wrist?" "My Gawd! ain't he primeval?" "Oh, you gave-girl!"

Society

California has always been the mecca of seekers after gold, whether it be the gold of the sand, the gold of health and happiness and good fellowship. And since the outbreak of the European strife, California has been the great ones of the earth, those of wealth and fame even more insistently than ever before. The west coast has attained a new reputation as a pleasant ground and not a host-guest-giving capacity. And the awe of receiving men and women whose names were national or international has evaporated before the very genuine interest that California, herself rich in her heritage of famous ones, has in these peoples.

But while the stranger is very welcome and royally received there is no joy quite like that which makes anew a place for one who was numbered with the early Californians.

And Mrs. Morton Mitchell is learning how very little the score of 10 years of residence in Paris has made the Pacific coast friends forget her. Mrs. Mitchell remained abroad some months after the war made France a place of desolation, crossing some time last summer. Recently she has been a guest at Paso Robles, joining the smart colony there for rest from the strenuous days which have been her portion. She is returning to her home with her brother, F. W. Eaton, at his home in San Francisco, where there will be some delightful functions offered her, bringing together the best of the group of the pioneer families.

Mrs. Mitchell has many intimates on this side of the bay.

It will be remembered that she is the generous woman who contributed the first check of $200, which was the next egg to make possible the California ward in the American ambulance in Paris. Her gift was followed by other checks from Mrs. Crocker and several other prominent women in the state.

Mrs. A. Schilling is opening her beautiful residence on the lake shore for a magnificent luncheon on the afternoon of Thursday, March 29. The guests will include the matrons of the smart set from both sides the bay. At this season of the year the balling grounds which have been been esteemed show places in Oakland, are lovely in their spring blossoms of trees and shrubs and always inspire Mrs. Schilling to a series of charming luncheons which have been the family will close their Oakland home to go down to their wonderful estate near Redwood City, where they entertain lavishly through the summer.

Mrs. Schilling will have her mother in her hostess duties at the March function.

Mrs. Lee Cote Burnham has planned a pretty, appointed affair, for at the later March, asking her friends to meet Mrs. Armstrong, an interesting woman who is spending the season in the bay cities from her home in the Hawaiian Islands. Mrs. Armstrong has been most happily feted since her advent in California.

Society in many moons has been promised nothing more delightful than the "Sports" of the kind in Alameda, where women interested in Red Cross work have arranged for this evening in Wilkins Hall. It will be a wonderfully colorful scene, with the vivid hues which are in vogue out of door wear the striking feature. The men to be in keeping with the informal dress of the feminine guests will adopt white flannels, flasks, large and small, draped and clustered, will adorn the rooms, making a truly patriotic setting for the money-bringing dance. To Mrs. Henry Martinez and Mrs. Andrew M. Davis, with the able committees which have assisted them, belong the credit for the mid-winter affair which finds its excuse in the national call for preparedness.

And the dance is the motif for a number of dinner parties for the earlier hours, bringing congenial groups together as guests of a number of popular hostesses. Mrs. Chas. M. Gayley and Miss Mary Gayley are claiming friends to meet Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cedric Snook, who are being welcomed to Berkeley from their home in Wyoming. Mrs. Snook will be remembered as Miss Edith Clapp. Miss Katherine Bennett has asked another coterie to be her dinner guests.

With Mrs. Oscar Ingals as the guest of honor, Mrs. Robert Sharon is entertaining tomorrow afternoon. Thirty close friends who are devoted to bridge have been included in the invitation for the hour, which will be rounded out with tea.

Mrs. T. H. Crosby has recently come into possession of the lower end of the estate formerly owned by Mr. and Mrs. Wickham Havens and within a few months is planning to build another in the group of pretentious mansions which are being erected in the Piedmont hills. The pride of the Havens' home was the lotus pond and the beautiful sunken gardens. These Mrs. Crosby will preserve, making them the pivot of a splendid landscape effect. Since Mrs. Dennis Scates gave up her Piedmont home it has been leased by Mrs. Crosby.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Collis Gibson are relocating in the advent of a little place of desolation, crossing some time last summer. Recently she has been a guest at Paso Robles, joining the smart colony there for rest from the strenuous days which have been her portion. She is returning to her home with her brother, F. W. Eaton, at his home in San Francisco, where there will be some delightful functions offered her, bringing together the best of the group of the pioneer families.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Collis Gibson are relocating in the advent of a little place of desolation, crossing some time last summer. Recently she has been a guest at Paso Robles, joining the smart colony there for rest from the strenuous days which have been her portion. She is returning to her home with her brother, F. W. Eaton, at his home in San Francisco, where there will be some delightful functions offered her, bringing together the best of the group of the pioneer families.

Mrs. Mitchell has many intimates on this side of the bay.

It will be remembered that she is the generous woman who contributed the first check of $200, which was the next egg to make possible the California ward in the American ambulance in Paris. Her gift was followed by other checks from Mrs. Crocker and several other prominent women in the state.

Mrs. A. Schilling is opening her beautiful residence on the lake shore for a magnificent luncheon on the afternoon of Thursday, March 29. The guests will include the matrons of the smart set from both sides the bay. At this season of the year the balling grounds which have been been esteemed show places in Oakland, are lovely in their spring blossoms of trees and shrubs and always inspire Mrs. Schilling to a series of charming luncheons which have been the family will close their Oakland home to go down to their wonderful estate near Redwood City, where they entertain lavishly through the summer.

Mrs. Schilling will have her mother in her hostess duties at the March function.

Mrs. Lee Cote Burnham has planned a pretty, appointed affair, for at the later March, asking her friends to meet Mrs. Armstrong, an interesting woman who is spending the season in the bay cities from her home in the Hawaiian Islands. Mrs. Armstrong has been most happily feted since her advent in California.

Society in many moons has been promised nothing more delightful than the "Sports" of the kind in Alameda, where women interested in Red Cross work have arranged for this evening in Wilkins Hall. It will be a wonderfully colorful scene, with the vivid hues which are in vogue out of door wear the striking feature. The men to be in keeping with the informal dress of the feminine guests will adopt white flannels, flasks, large and small, draped and clustered, will adorn the rooms, making a truly patriotic setting for the money-bringing dance. To Mrs. Henry Martinez and Mrs. Andrew M. Davis, with the able committees which have assisted them, belong the credit for the mid-winter affair which finds its excuse in the national call for preparedness.

And the dance is the motif for a number of dinner parties for the earlier hours, bringing congenial groups together as guests of a number of popular hostesses. Mrs. Chas. M. Gayley and Miss Mary Gayley are claiming friends to meet Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cedric Snook, who are being welcomed to Berkeley from their home in Wyoming. Mrs. Snook will be remembered as Miss Edith Clapp. Miss Katherine Bennett has asked another coterie to be her dinner guests.

With Mrs. Oscar Ingals as the guest of honor, Mrs. Robert Sharon is entertaining tomorrow afternoon. Thirty close friends who are devoted to bridge have been included in the invitation for the hour, which will be rounded out with tea.

Mrs. T. H. Crosby has recently come into possession of the lower end of the estate formerly owned by Mr. and Mrs. Wickham Havens and within a few months is planning to build another in the group of pretentious mansions which are being erected in the Piedmont hills. The pride of the Havens' home was the lotus pond and the beautiful sunken gardens. These Mrs. Crosby will preserve, making them the pivot of a splendid landscape effect. Since Mrs. Dennis Scates gave up her Piedmont home it has been leased by Mrs. Crosby.

IF KIDNEYS ACT BAD TAKE SALTS

Says Backache Is Sign You
Have Been Eating Too Much Meat.

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels, removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells, your stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is a life savor for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot induce constipation, and is a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink. Advertisement.

RUN-DOWN WOMEN

We Have a Remedy That Will Cost You Nothing If It Does Not Help You.

Oakland women will please realize that we mean just what we say in the above heading. Letters like the following prove the efficiency of Vinol in such cases:

"For the benefit of the other tired women, I want to say that I keep house for seven in my family. I became run-down, all played out, I did not seem to have any life in me and looked badly. I read so much about Vinol I decided to try it and I must say it helped me in every way. It built me up, so I felt like a new woman, and my friends said they could see a great change in me." Mrs. John M. Waldron, Saratoga Springs, N. Y.

We recommend Vinol to our customers as the greatest strength orator we know because it contains beef and cod liver phosphorus, iron and manganese peptonates and glycerophosphates, all dissolved in a pure medicinal wine.

Got a "Share?" Next Week You May Win Chevrolet

Next Monday Night to See Another Drawing for Machine

They are still talking about it.
Everybody knows what we mean by
"it."

"It" means that wonderful TRIBUNE-Chevrolet night at the Orpheum last Monday.

The way Oakland responded, almost in a body, to the TRIBUNE'S idea of becoming a Chevrolet "share" holder opened the eyes of every slow going citizen in the city.

Any time you have to call out the police to clear a way on the street and in the lobby for the crowds that wait to get into the theater, you have done something.

That is all over now.
But there is more to come.
Mr. Connor of East Oakland, proprietor of the Orpheum, placed with the TRIBUNE last Monday and he is riding around town in his brand new machine, happy as a lark and proud as a king.

Next week it may be you, who is decorating the front seat of a Chevrolet, one of the greatest cars that the automobile world knows, and all at the TRIBUNE'S expense. Who knows? Any way the second Chevrolet car will be allotted to the proud shareholder by the TRIBUNE next Monday and the point of that story is this:

Get busy.
Perhaps if you had had ten TRIBUNE Chevrolet shares last week (instead of two, you would have won the beautiful new car, and been six hundred and twenty-five dollars richer.)

Get those extra TRIBUNE-Chevrolet shares this week and better your chances. There is no limit to the number of shares you may turn in, so make it fifty—make it one hundred—make it one thousand—your share will be yours at a time.

THE RUSH IN SHIPBUILDING.

At its last session Congress made liberal provision for new naval construction and the government is now preparing to speed up the work under the plan contemplated when authority to issue $115,000,000 bonds was asked in order to effect the immediate construction of vessels should an emergency require it. This program will mean the possible completion in two years of a half billion dollar program originally planned to be carried out in five years. It will require that practically all government and private shipbuilding facilities in the country be engaged on naval work, and the government has been empowered to impress private plants into service on war vessels and to suspend the eight-hour day law in navy yards by paying overtime.

In order to meet the government's demands, the principal shipbuilders of the country have agreed to displace private contracts and work on a straight 10 percent profit basis. Facilities will be increased everywhere. Thus the work will be expedited and the cost to the government kept upon a reasonably low basis. The Secretary of the Navy is considering supplementing the regular building authorized in the appropriation acts of 1915, 1916 and 1917 by sixty submarine-chasing motor boats and probably other naval auxiliaries. American shipbuilding facilities will be taxed to the limit to meet the demands of the government and commercial shipbuilding.

Under such conditions it will be a serious general misfortune if all the shipyards of the Pacific Coast are not ready to shoulder their full share of the necessary work, or are prevented, through any local causes, from securing a just proportion of government contracts. They will mean employment and general prosperity. We are glad to observe that there is likelihood of the local shipyard strike reaching an early adjustment.

WHILE AMERICA WAITS.

Statistics compiled from the reports of United States consuls in the Far East disclose significant changes in the industrial and commercial activities of Japan. An unprecedented era of prosperity is on in that country. Nearly every line of business has made astounding increases in volume and profits. For example, the net profits of fifteen of the largest cotton mills in Japan during the first half of 1916 totaled $6,468,000; for the second half, $9,535,000, an increase of 50 percent. Increased sales to China, India and the United States accounts for a large percentage of this gain. The Japan Advertiser thanks the European war for this prosperity, and in the sense that the war has poured into the coffers of Japan a stream of gold which is being used for the development of manufacturing industries, this is true.

The chief reason, however, for prosperity in the Japanese cotton textile industry is that Japan's cost of production is so low she can undersell the world, and is already taking command of the Far Eastern markets. Great Britain's exports of cotton cloths during 1916 were far in excess of the previous years, but a large portion of them were shifted to other quarters of the globe because Japanese competition in the Orient was making sales profitless there.

And this Japanese competition hits American manufacturers twice as hard because we pay our labor twice as much as Great Britain pays hers. We exported to China and Hongkong during 1913, 118,000,000 yards of cotton cloths; to Aden, 28,000,000 yards; and to the Philippine Islands 92,000,000 yards, a total, in round numbers, to those countries that year of 238,000,000 yards; in 1916, to China and Hongkong, 3,400,000 yards; to Aden, 13,700,000 yards, and to our cherished possessions, the Philippines, 64,000,000, a total of 81,000,000 yards, or a loss, compared with 1913, of 157,000,000 yards in the quantity of cotton cloths sent to those three countries. Japan was getting in her work.

Imports of cotton cloths from other countries, which include Japan, into American markets increased during 1916 about 340 percent over the full calendar year of 1914—the first year of Democratic cut tariff rates. The increase in cotton laces, embroidery, etc., was 112 percent.

The question may well be asked whether industrial America is sleeping while Japan seizes not only the shipping business of the Pacific, but the markets for manufactured goods in all parts of the world. This is another matter in which watchful waiting should be abandoned.

When the merchant steamer Storvold was laid down at the plant of the Union Iron Works two years ago it was to cost $900,000. While under construction the vessel was sold for $1,650,000. This week it again changed hands in London for $2,230,000. Thus the value of the ship increased two and one-half times. In these figures is contained in brief the story of extraordinary increases in the value of ocean shipping, the cost of transportation, and the price of food stuffs throughout the world.

A FALLEN CITADEL OF ROMANCE.

Capture of Bagdad by the British Mesopotamia expedition may have a wide effect upon the strategic map of the war. The retreat of the Turkish forces upon Mosul would seem to open up a favorable opportunity for the Russian Caucasus army and General Maude's forces to touch with the allied army guarding the Suez canal and already extending around to the north of the Sinai peninsula. Thus an arc of armed forces would reach around the Turkish armies in Asia from Trebizond on the Black Sea to Alexandretta on the Mediterranean.

But probably a more lasting and pleasing influence upon the minds of the peoples not actively connected with the war will result from the destruction of one of history's most noted citadels of romance and fiction. The wealth and the magnificence of Bagdad have been the themes of song and story for many centuries and western people have had an exaggerated idea of this stronghold of orientalism. Its position as the heir and representative of Babylon helped to gain for the sheerest fables ready acceptance as verities.

Yet all that the English invaders found upon entering Bagdad to remind them of the tales of the past was the odor and dingy dirtiness, the filth and the disease that is the background of every center of "learning and wealth" in Asia. Only a few thousand of the helpless population remained, and there was none of the great treasure and other evidence of power that was credited to the Bagdad of the books. To make it habitable for the white man it must be mostly destroyed and rebuilt. Then it will never again be "oriental" in character. Bagdad, "the Glorious City" of the pre-Christian era, together with the fantastic exploits of Haroun-al-Rachid, has become but the dust of dreams.

The great traveler and versatile raconteur, Marco Polo, is to be blamed for much of the fiction about Bagdad. Christendom had just recovered from the scare of the Tartar engulfment, when, in the latter half of the thirteenth century, Senor Marco arrived in Bagdad, enroute on a mission of friendship from the Vatican to the Great Khan at Peking. He found the city occupied by the Mongols; who under Haluka Khan had recently stormed the city and executed Mostasim Billah, the last of the Abbassid Caliphs. He wrote home that Haluka found in the city a tower of the Caliph filled with gold and silver and other treasure, "the greatest accumulation in one spot that ever was known."

Whether this was true or not, subsequent writers have been content to follow Polo. Hence Longfellow:

"I said to the Kalif: 'Thou art old, Thou has no need of so much gold. Thou shouldst not heaped and hidden it here, Till the breath of battle was hot and near, But have sown through the land these useless hoards To spring into shining blades of swords, And keep thine hour sweet and clear.'"

And Sanuta, remembering Crassus and the Parthians, has embellished Polo's narrative to the extent of saying that melted gold was poured down the Caliph's throat. Apropos of this last story it is interesting, and somewhat typical, to observe that Mr. G. le Strange, writing in the Journal of the Royal Asiatic Society (April 1900) quotes the probably true version from the work of Ibn-al-Furat, a Mohammedan historian, who was born at Cairo in 1335. It is to the effect that the Caliph was confined in prison, and being in great hunger, asked for something to eat. Haluka sent him a plate of gold, one of silver and one of gems. Having complained that these were not fit to eat, Haluka Khan addressed him thus: "Since thou didst so well know these be not fit for eating, why didst thou make a store thereof?" and more to the same effect, after which the Caliph was rolled in a carpet and tramped to death under the cavalry.

Three centuries later and the Mongol Islamic dynasty which Osman set up in the Byzantine Peninsula had recovered Bagdad to its fast-spreading empire, but the influence of Polo and his commentators on the literature of the famous city was unchanged. In the meantime the inhabitants have pursued their even ways, communicating with the outside world principally by the means of Persian rugs that sell at a ridiculous price. Not far from the sacred Mecca, their orthodoxy has been preserved; as the British advance guard entered the city thousands of Moslems recited the same prayer as did Mostasim Billah two days after his capture by Haluka Khan (Koran, III, 25):

"Say God is Possessor of Dominion! It shall be given to whom He will; it shall be taken from whom He will: Whom He will He raiseth to honor; whom He will He casteth to the ground."

While the Democrats of the committee on the judiciary of the last House were opposed to the proposed constitutional amendment extending the right of suffrage to women, the resolution was nevertheless reported to the House without recommendation. No Democrat had the courage to submit a written report in the matter, and Republican Representative John M. Nelson of Wisconsin, who is strongly in favor of woman suffrage, seized the opportunity to submit his views in writing, with the result that the only printed report on the suffrage resolution is from a Republican and enthusiastically favorable.

NOTES and COMMENT

Congressman Sherwood of Ohio was an extreme pacifist until the sinking of three American ships in one day. Now he is hysteric for war. The new convert is always more intolerant of transgression than he who was bred in the faith.

The cost of averting the railroad strike, it is stated, will be sixty millions a year. Some of us may regard this prospect with indifference, not being personally sympathetic with railroads; but some may understand that ultimately this considerable sum will be passed on to us.

The Russian general who had a cow transported to the front in the Russo-Japanese war because he could not stand canned milk—his army not having sufficient to eat at the same time—has been heard from. In the inception of the Petrograd uprising he was sought out by some who appeared to have good memories and shot.

Mr. Schmidt, of San Diego, who lighted his cigar with an American flag, has heard from the United States of America. This nation is not always watchfully waiting.

One satisfactory detail of this country's new relation to the European situation is that in discussing it American citizens are no longer deterred from calling a spade a spade.

Governor Stephens has been at the helm now for a week, and anxious ones are still unlightened as just how it is.

Vorwaerts, a great German paper, doesn't seem to be suppressed nor its editor jailed for saying in a discussion of the Russian happening: "Shall the world say that all the nations on earth are free except Germany?"

Who shall say the police judges of San Francisco are not polite? When it was declared in a pulp that "one of the police judges actually scolded the officers for making arrests in vice crusades," the magistrate who was meant merely replied that the accuser had been misinformed. It is almost certain that he thought in other language.

Attention was arrested to the heading, "Bill's Passage Halts Closing of Tamalpais." It must have been original news to a good many that it was proposed to put Tamalpais in the jackrabbit class. There seems to be no end to the things that somebody has proposed to do to everybody through legislative enactment.

Everybody holds that the Supreme Court decision on the Adamson law is epoch-making, but nobody is able to discern where it will lead to. Incidentally, a tremendous preponderance of legal opinion before the decision was rendered was to the effect that the law was unconstitutional.

A despatch states that Secretary Lane praises the railroads for their patriotic act. The railroads' patriotism in the recent strike controversy was akin to that of the contestant who couldn't very well help himself.

The nationalizing of railroad control would seem to be the logical outcome of the recent compromises and court decisions. The importance of having railroads in hand by the central authority was realized in the recent imbroglio as it never was before.

The vice crusade in San Francisco has developed into a personal fight. Just as observant persons realized it was likely to when it was entered upon.

Query by the Santa Ana Blade: "A New York judge has just ruled that a man's wife has a right to take money from his pockets while he is asleep. But why wait until they are asleep?"

SPIRIT OF THE STATE PRESS

It is said that many eastern people are prejudiced against California rice on the assumption that we may be "Chinified" by eating an oriental dish. Such a prejudice is foolish. Few of the great staples of diet to which people European born and bred are accustomed are native products. Wheat appears to have come originally from the western Asiatic and was an important crop in ancient Egypt. Potatoes and Indian corn are American products, though both had to be brought to these latitudes from the sub-tropics. We are not Chinified by rice any more than we are Tartarized or Egyptianized by wheat or Mexicanized by potatoes and maize.—Woodland Democrat.

Someone made a count in Pomona the other day and in one hour 18 automobiles and 16 horses passed the corner of Holt and Gary streets. Ten years ago the figures would have been reversed.—Santa Ana Blade.

Every day finds the lines around the Mare Island navy yard drawn a little tighter. For some time past all messages sent from or received at the station are in code. Recently orders went forth that no official business of any kind could be transmitted over the telephone.—Vallejo Times.

Mayor Woodman of Los Angeles has aspirations to become governor of California. This information has not yet been published in the Los Angeles papers, but it comes to us by underground service from a reliable source. And if he gets to be governor, then there is the road over the mountains to the east; and then who knows but what—don't slam the door, you might awaken him.—Santa Ana Blade.

THE HIGH COST OF ARTILLERY.

Always a costly arm, field artillery is more so now than ever, due to the complicated engines it uses. The equipment alone, exclusive of men and horses, for the artillery of a corps in our army reaches a cost of more than $12,000,000, its visible supply of ammunition twice that amount. For an army of a million men the cost is more than $120,000,000; that of ammunition, more than $240,000,000. It need scarcely be said that such costly machinery of war must be provided in time of peace.—National Service Magazine for March.

LIBERTY CALLS.

Awake, America! For in the skies
A sword of blood and fire flashes!
Awake! From out sleep years of slumber rise
Ere grim destruction on thee crashes!

Awake, all lovers of sweet liberty!
And train, each freeman, for the battle!
Build armies and swift warships!
Then our land
Will live—let who their scabbards rattle!

Prepare! So that the day may never be
When foes our dear homes pillage,
When wives and children perish
wretchedly,
And shame enshrouds each village!

Prepare! The souls of our dead heroes call:
"Be weak no more, but bravely
ready!
Let not the woes of Belgium on you fall!
Let hearts be stout—and rifles steady!"
—NORTHROP MORSE.
San Francisco, Cal.

COPPER OUTPUT DOUBLED.

In the March American Magazine is an interesting account of one of the most remarkable figures of the present industrial age, Daniel C. Jackling, who has evolved a scheme for the utilization of low-grade copper deposits and can handle low-grade ore at a greater profit than is gained by the owners of the famous Michigan mines. It is needless to say that already Mr. Jackling is a multimillionaire.

"We can handle, at a profit, ore that contains only fourteen pounds of metal to the ton," he has stated of his mine at Bingham, Utah, "and we have several hundred million tons of a far better grade fully developed and in reserve."

This means that the available supply of copper—next to iron—the world's most useful metal—has almost been doubled. Which, in turn, means that copper without the quantities made available through Jackling's work, would now be selling at $1 instead of 26 cents a pound, would command a price, regardless of war conditions, that would seriously cramp the growth and expansion of the electrical industry.

THE UNFORGIVABLE APROPOS.

Now she hates one of her oldest friends. Yesterday she was down town with this friend, and just before noon she said to the other lady: "Well, I am going over here and catch my car." Then the other said to her: "Well, I am going home, too; I'll go over on Main and catch mine. I am awfully glad I ran across you, and I want you to come to see me real soon." Martha said she would, and the two parted. A few minutes later Martha went into a place to get a bite of something to eat, and what do you think? "Yes, there she was—eating lunch. 'I didn't wait her to ask me to go to lunch with her,' Martha explained to us after she returned from town, 'but I don't see why she wanted to slip away. I don't see why she wanted to pretend that she was going home. I am sure I am able to buy my own lunch, but I want her to return those patterns she borrowed, and I never expect to set foot in her house again.'—Fort Worth Star-Telegraph.

NEGRO'S IDEA OF LOYALTY

With all his genius and culture, Roscoe Conkling Simmons is a negro. His college degrees and personal refinement cannot change his blood or color or make him one bit less a member of a race regarded as socially, economically and mentally inferior to the white.

That Louisville is proud of him as a citizen; that the negro people of the country look to him for leadership and protection, to his illustrious uncle, Booker T. Washington; that men of prominence in the nation accord him fellowship and a place in high councils, does not change his status.

For these very reasons, his words, spoken the other day before a gathering of his own race, should spread a blush of shame on the Caucasian skins of some who are conspicuous in the eyes of the nation just now. When men of superior learning and vaunted super-race connections, instructed with the solemn duty of serving and protecting their country's destiny, join with foreign tyrant cut-throats to heap contumely upon the nation's head and tie the hands stretched out to protect the lives and rights of Americans; when envenomed traitor-slacker join to invite national disgrace and ruin, well may this member of an "inferior race" boast:

"We have a record to defend, but no treason, thank God, to atone or explain. While in chains we fought to free white men—from Lexington to Carrizal—and returned again to our flag. No negro has ever insulted the flag. No negro ever struck down a President of these United States. No negro ever sold a military man, or secret to a foreign government. No negro ever ran under fire or lost an opportunity to serve, to fight, to bleed and to die in the republic's cause. Accuse us of what you will—justly and wrongly—no man can point to a single instance of our disloyalty.

"We have but one country and one flag, the flag that set us free. Its language is our only tongue, and no hyphen bridges or qualifies our loyalty. Today the nation faces danger from a foreign foe, treason stalks and stalks up and down our land, in dark councils intrigue is being hatched. I am a Republican, but a Wilson Republican. Woodrow Wilson is my leader. What he commands me to do I shall do. Where he commands me to go I shall go. If he calls me to the colors, I shall not ask whether my colonel is black or white. I shall be there to pick out no color except the white of the enemy's eye. Grievances I have against this people, against this government. Injustice to me there is, bad laws there are upon the statute books, but in this hour of peril I forget—and you must forget—all thoughts of self or race or creed or politics or color. That, boys, is loyalty."

That this address was a notable piece of diction and oratory means little, save as a tribute to the talent and erudition of its author and an augury of what may come from others of his race when given his opportunities. As a rebuke to the traitors and Americans not worthy of the name it deserves the widest reading, while such white men as La Follette, Stone, O'Gorman, Vardaman, Works, Bryan and all their ilk, instead, perhaps, of being tarred and feathered, should be forced to read these words of a black man.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

TODAY 20 YEARS AGO

Through the agency of two kind-hearted women, Mrs. Alexander Campbell and Miss Sophie Newland, it is probable that Oakland will in some measure aid the poor unemployed of San Francisco.

Until the proposed election contest is settled the ballots in the city clerk's office will be kept under strict surveillance.

An influential party of Oakland and San Francisco capitalists visited the Corral Hollow mines and inspected the works.

The Salvation Army gala day will terminate this evening in a monster meeting at the First Presbyterian church, where Commander Booth-Tucker will speak.

THE CRIME OF SENDING UN-TRAINED MEN TO WAR.

The principal difference in effect between the emergency system and the precautionary system of organizing an army for war is that whereas under the former soldiers are trained in or during war, under the latter they are trained in advance. Military service is a difficult and complicated art. It cannot be extemporized. It is as absurd to suppose that anybody can become a soldier at a moment's notice as to suppose that anybody can become a plumber, or a sculptor, or an engineer, from sheer energy and goodwill. It is not customary to call in benevolent bystanders when the waterpipes burst, or when a large sum is to be expended upon a national monument, or when a bridge is to be built. Those who volunteered would undoubtedly learn much before they were through, but meanwhile the material equipment would be wasted, and the crisis would be past. It is a costly and ineffective method of apprenticeship. But the art of war is also the most dangerous of arts, and a decent regard for the safety of the apprentice requires that he shall be made familiar with edged tools before he is permitted to use them. To send enthusiastic poets, piano-tuners, lawyers and farmers into war is as pitiful and wicked as it would be to send children to put out a fire, or confiding in savages to fight a contagious disease.

—Ralph Barton Perry, in National Service Magazine.

TRIBUNE BUREAU
2015 SHATTUCK AVE.
BERKELEY, March 21.—As the sequel to an all-day drinking bout, in which she engaged with her brother and a negro lodger, Mrs. Edith Brown was burned to death at midnight in her residence at 1329 1/2 Ashby avenue. A. Bert Flora, her brother, was badly burned about the upper part of the body, but will recover. Albert Gaston, a negro janitor, escaped with a few burns about the hands. The residence was totally destroyed.

Two reports from a shotgun fired by Flora shortly before the fire, the discovery of the shotgun, a muffled report which accompanied the outburst of the fire, the finding of the woman's body half-way in a closet in a room apart from the one in which she slept and other mysterious details were explained one by one in the police investigation today until early suspicions of a crime being hidden by the fire were allayed.

Mrs. Brown, a divorced woman, whose husband is said to be somewhere in the East, and her brother, a sailor, occupied the rear cottage which was burned. Mrs. Brown ordinarily occupied an east bedroom, while Flora and Gaston, their lodger, slept on cots in the living room. Last night, according to Gaston, only Flora had retired before the fire broke out of the flames. Gaston declares he went into the kitchen to light a gasoline stove there, that the stove exploded and that the whole cottage seemed to burst into flames at once.

RESCUE VICTIM'S BROTHER.
The crew of a passing Ashby avenue car, seeing the fire, aroused Henry Gerkin, residing at 1329 Ashby avenue, and assisted him in dragging Flora, who was in a stupor, through a window of the house to safety. By the time the fire department arrived the house was all ablaze and saving it was impossible.

When they could gain entrance the firemen found the body of Mrs. Brown, burned into an almost unrecognizable mass. The woman is supposed, when the fire broke out, to have started for a closet in the middle room where the possessions of the household were kept and to have stumbled over some object, falling through the closet door. Stunned by the shock, it is supposed she was unable to arise and was caught by the fire. Only the flesh of her shoulders and face was left intact by the flames.

Gaston was taken into custody by the police after the fire and retained as a witness. A guard was placed over Flora, who was taken to Roosevelt hospital, where his injuries, found to be serious but not fatal, were dressed. He was questioned later today by Detective Henry Jamison and told a story which, according to the detective, was rambling but coincided as to main facts with Gaston's account.

STORY OF GASTON.
The latter declares that both Flora and his sister had been drinking heavily during the day and were intoxicated at nightfall. He declares that he had two drinks, but was sober. The finding of a shotgun on the kitchen floor with both shells exploded is explained by Gaston, who declares that Flora, just before he retired, conceived the notion of firing off the weapon and did so outside the kitchen door, later dropping the weapon on the floor as he stumbled to his bed.

Mrs. Brown was 34 years of age, her brother twelve years her senior. They had frequently quarreled, according to neighbors, and Gaston declares that they had a quarrel last evening, but that he patched up matters between them. Gaston is a janitor in several Shattuck avenue offices. He is 49 years of age.

WOMEN BREAK "FIVE YEARS AT COLLEGE, THEN TEACH" RULE

MISS CLOTILDE GRUNSKY.

Wide Field Found for Services of Fair Graduates

Teaching need be regarded as the inevitable and predestined calling for women no longer, according to the findings of a group of investigators, who under the direction of Miss Clotilde Grunsky have been combing other fields for opportunities for women. At the request of the California branch of the Association of Collegiate Alumnae, Miss Grunsky and a group of students undertook to find out in just what way women were being used into other lines of work. They investigated all of the opportunities open to women, and all of the possibilities for pioneer work on the part of the bravest spirits who will venture into hitherto untried fields.

The result of the investigations has been embodied in a report which the university is printing, and which will be issued soon under the authority of the University Department of Education.

Figures compiled by Miss Grunsky in her report show that 40 per cent of the women graduates of the University of California go into the teaching field where they fill various positions as heads of departments, principals, vice-principals, city and county superintendents, schools. Several counties in California are at present employing women superintendents.

ENTER PROFESSIONS.
In the professional fields, law, medicine, dentistry, surgery and pharmacy, there are many women graduates, and a few hold salaried positions in one or all of these fields in connection with institutions or under the State. Referees of the Probation Court, appraisers of property and other legal salaried positions are available in a few instances.

Two college women are known to be engaged in engineering work, and there is an occasional position under the State which does not require field work. In the field of engineering, musical, architectural, there are positions filled by women and open to more, and there is a wide field in the line of artistic pursuits, which include astronomy, music, scientific illustrating, designing, museum work, designing backgrounds and curators.

In the agricultural fields there are opportunities for women as farmer for state institutions, dairy inspectors, animal packers or inspectors. These positions come under state civil service, where also may be secured positions such as food and drug inspectors, motor vehicle inspectors, testing engineers and dairy inspectors.

WIDE SCOPE OF WORK.
Social service fields offer the largest opportunities for women, for a number of fields, settlement workers, work in religious and business organizations, recreation work, and a particularly large field of public service work are listed. In the last named group are included on various temporary and permanent commissions—inspector for State Board of Charities and Corrections, eugenic investigator, prison matrons, investigators for Industrial Welfare Commission, various lines of clerical work for Industrial Accident, Housing and Immigration and Social Insurance Commissions, Mother's Pension Bureau, and various activities with the Associated Charities, juvenile court work and police work with women and children.

The field of opportunity in California is unlimited apparently. The "five years at college and then teach" rule is broken. With the finding of so many opportunities for women the State University is to make definite effort to place more women in the possible fields. To that end it is establishing an appointment bureau, which will correspond in the fields to the work done by the teachers' appointment bureau which has been in existence at the university for years. Miss Grunsky will head the new vocational bureau at the university.

OFFICIAL OUSTED?
LONDON, March 21.—Joseph West-erberg, a Swede, who recently was adjudged liable for a penalty of 119,000 crowns in a civil action, is reported in a Malmö despatch to the Politiken to have been ousted from his position as chief of the Malmö Exchange Telegraph despatch, to have been dismissed.

AWARDED DAMAGES.
A jury awarded Louis Blandine $500 damages against Frank Dezzitti in Judge William Conley's department of the Superior Court this morning. Blandine sued for $500, alleging that Dezzitti made an attack with a knife and seriously injured him.

SHIP STRIKE ENDED; MEN ARE AT WORK

Laborer Return to Yards and Conference Will Be Had to Adjust Wage Differences

Following a meeting at the headquarters of the shipyard laborers in the Labor Temple in this city, last evening, at which an almost unanimous vote was taken on the matter, all the striking laborers returned to work this morning at the Union Iron Works and the Moore & Scott shipyards pending a settlement of the wage differences. The men went back to their places with the understanding that within forty-eight hours a conference will be held between representatives of the two shipbuilding plants and the officers of the labor union for an arrangement of a wage schedule.

The action taken at the meeting last night followed a report by a special committee, headed by W. B. Castro, which met yesterday with Archie Gunn, assistant manager of the Union Iron Works in San Francisco.

At this meeting Gunn refused absolutely to discuss the strike situation until the men returned to work. He convinced the committee that the Union Iron Works officials were not responsible for the delay in the telegram accepting the union's offer to arrange a conference. The fault lay with a girl clerk in the office, who filed a night letter instead of a day message.

On this showing the special committee returned last night and made its report of the situation as it stood. The matter was then put to a vote, with the result that the men as a body decided to return to work this morning. When they applied at the yards of the two plants from which they struck several days ago they were put back to work at their old jobs without comment.

Gunn of the Union Iron Works has announced that he would be willing to treat with a committee of the strikers within 48 hours after the men returned to work. In the face of this showing it is anticipated that a conference between the union leaders and the shipbuilding concerns will probably be arranged not later than Friday and probably sooner, at which the wage dissension will be thoroughly threshed out.

At the meeting held in the Labor Temple last night at which it was decided to return to work, nearly 1000 men were present.

RAID STORE; TRY TO KILL NIGHT CLERK

Two Young Bandits Boldly Rob Straub Pharmacy and Branch Postoffice at Pistol Point

Boldly entering the Straub Pharmacy at 4015 Broadway at 8:30 o'clock last night, with drawn revolvers, two young bandits fired a shot at George Richards, night clerk, narrowly missing him. One of the bandits covered Richards with a revolver, while the other rifled the cash registers of the store and the branch postoffice, obtaining $75 in cash. No stamps were taken.

The bandits, after warning Richards to make no outcry, dashed from his store and fled north on Broadway. They have not been arrested.

The robbery, which was most daring, took place in a well lighted thoroughfare while many automobiles, street cars and pedestrians were passing. It was done quickly. The store had no customers in the store at the time.

When the men entered Richards was seated at a desk near the rear, writing a letter. As he received the order to hold up his hands, one of the robbers fired a shot in his direction, apparently intended to intimidate him. He was caught unaware, and although he had a revolver in a desk drawer, he had no time to make use of it.

The bandits he described as being about 45 years of age, medium height, wore no disguises and were apparently unconnected with being identified. They did not attempt to converse with Richards, but went ahead with their business as if they were fully acquainted with the location of the money.

The store's cash register was the first emptied. It contained about $80, according to W. A. Straub, the proprietor. The remainder of the money was taken from the drawer which held the receipts and stamps of the branch postoffice located in the building.

No one apparently heard the shot that was fired at Richards as no one ran to his assistance, nor did any one try to overtake the bandits when they left his building. They had taken the chance of a customer entering the store or of some one seeing them from the street, but were prepared to shoot if necessary.

Wearers Appreciate Double Vision Lenses

Unprecedented Demand for These Wonderful New Lenses.
Double vision lenses, which are manufactured by an entirely new process and known as "Caleo" lenses, have been made it possible for thousands of people to wear bifocals who heretofore found them impossible. The "Caleo" lenses combine reading and distance corrections in one lens which is ground from a single piece of clear and perfect optical glass. When worn there is no noticeable dividing line between reading and distance portions. They are entirely new color lenses and free from many other disagreeable features of the old style bifocals. Remember the name, "Caleo," as substitutes are being offered. Made by California Optical Company at its three establishments, 1221 Broadway, Oakland; 181 Post street and 2508 Mission street, San Francisco.—Adv.

Campus Reads 'Hymn of Hate'

BERKELEY, March 21.—Girls and Not a one would go, they'll desert preparedness ruled the issue of the Pelican, the University of California humor magazine, out today, but more than by either were campus readers attracted to a "Hymn of Hate," of which Major John T. Nance, commander of the University Cadets, made the brunt. The lampoon aroused more excitement on the campus than has the contents of any previous number of the Pelican since Professor William Carey Jones, dean of the law department, was similarly assailed.

The "Hymn of Hate" parallels metrically the translations of the German effusion. Among its stanzas are the following:
"An oath for our brothers and pledges to take,
Come hear the word, repeat the word,
Throughout the campus make it heard,
We will never forego our hate!
We have all but a single hate,
We love as one and hate as one,
We have one for the whole alone—
The Major.
Should Uncle Sam fight the folk of the earth

The cartoons and jokes reached again in this issue of the Pelican to the verge for a former approach to which the editors and contributors were put in danger of faculty interference. "Interior Guard Duty" pictures a co-ed clasping her skirts to her knees and perched upon a has-sock by which is an intruding mouse. "Boys at the Front" are "old boys" in the front row of a theater, and there is a part of the same sketch devoted to a display of what attracted them there. "Our Idea of a Co-Ed Vacation" reflects the present campus epidemic on the campus by picturing a woman student in her cot. "The Tie That Binds" is a corset string as displayed in another sketch.

CARD SQUAD IS FIFTY TRACK BUNCH

"Ric" Templeton's Outfit Figures to Give South a Shake-up.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, March 21.—The lineup which will go on the track with track coach Ric Templeton, to make the trip to Southern California this week end, has not been announced by the coach but bench warmers on the track bleachers have it made out. The squad leaves Friday afternoon, and will meet the combined Los Angeles Athletic club and University of Southern California athletes in Los Angeles, Saturday afternoon. The following Saturday the Southerners will be on the campus here for a return meet.

Jud House, who was the star performer of last year's freshman squad, and who got over the high obstacles in 15.1 and the low in 24.1, in last Saturday's interclass meet, is sure of his ticket for Saturday. He is the Riverside lad who came north during his prep school days and established a new world's interschool record in the low hurdles. He is good for a first in both sticks in about as fast company as the State produces, though Grunsky of California, best him out in the 150-yard hurdles in the freshman meet last year. It is expected that Halstead and Williams will be the other two Cardinal hurdlers.

Diendorf and Rogers will probably be taken to run the 220 and Schnell and Scott for the half. The only prospect in the mile is Captain Apperly, with Chapman the best hope in the two miles. Billman will contest in both weight events, with Miller supporting him in the hammer and Rex Caughey in the shot put. Wilcox and Grove will be hard to beat in the pole. Wilcox is making twelve feet pretty regularly, and Green is not far behind him.

Lynn, although a junior, is a new one on the variety oval and has been getting out to twenty-one feet lately in the broad jump and should do better in competition. The best consistent high jumper is being done by Dink Templeton, who clears six feet. He never there is urgent need of it. He will probably be the only high jumper to go south.

The aggregation looks like one of the strongest Stanford has put out for some years and although some of the freshmen will be in the competing lineup it is expected that they will fall before the Cardinal invaders.

Stanford's babies will play with the Davis Farm huskies in a dual meet on the varsity oval here, while the college fathers are in the south.

MARRIED LIFE

LUCE MEDICAL BILL IS KILLED

SACRAMENTO, March 21.—Senator Edgar Luce's bill, which seeks to consolidate all medical examining boards under the jurisdiction of the State Board of Health, probably will not reach the floor of the senate again this session because of the action last night of the senate public health committee in voting to lay it on the table. The same committee voted to recommend the passage of two bills by Jones of San Jose and drinking cups in public places. The bill is supported by the State Board of Health.

Another measure approved provides measures to enforce the regulations of the State Board of Health governing the standard of materials used in the manufacture of mattresses. The committee heard the opponents of the Scott bill, permitting dentists with five years' practice in other states to practice in California without submitting to an examination by the State Board of Medical Examiners. The bill is opposed by the "ethical dentists" on the ground that it would let down the bars for migratory dentists.

BILL IS AMENDED.
Senator Duncan's effort to assign to judges of the court the additional duties of employment agents, with compensatory adjuncts, met a stalling block in the senate today, when Jones of San Jose offered an amendment to the bill, providing for supplying labor to employers. The bill, with its amending clause, will be voted on in a few days. In its original form the bill provided that justifications for persons in towns of more than 15,000 population may act as labor agents and supply help to employers at the rate of 10 cents a day for the first twenty days worked by the laborer. The fee was to be paid by the employer.

Thursday afternoon has been set for hearing on bills to declare an open season on meadow larks and yellow hamsters. Chairman C. C. Lyon, of the assembly fish and game committee announced today. Petitions containing thousands of names have been received by the committee to oppose the measures.

The senate civil service commission today approved the passage of Inman's bill exempting attaches and employees of the supreme and appellate courts from the provisions of the civil service commission. The commission disapproved the Stuckenbruck bill, which would abolish the commission.

STOMACH RULES BRAIN, IS THEORY

When the ancient Greeks believed a man thought with his stomach, they were not far wrong, according to Dr. Herbert Heywood, efficiency expert of San Francisco, who addressed the advertising bureau of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce at its regular, weekly luncheon yesterday.

Heywood showed by charts that when a question was asked of a person, the brain received the impression of the question, transmitted it to the diaphragm, which sent it back to the brain, and thereupon the answer was forthcoming. He backed up his assertions by experiments with psychomotor, an electrical apparatus for the measurement of thoughts.

"The seat of the emotions is in the stomach," Heywood said. "Now watch."

He then read a list of words, asking the subject to give antonyms. On the words "love," "mother," "sweetheart," and "nurturing" the subject hesitated. That, according to Heywood, showed that the emotions in the diaphragm had gripped the thought for the fraction of a second before transmitting it to the brain again.

By his psychomotor and his methods Heywood said he could determine if a locomotive engineer was capable of acting quickly enough to avert a collision. Experiments, he said, had shown that engineers often had to make up their minds in three-fifths of a second in such crises.

"True personal efficiency," he went on, "consists in doing the thing in a simple and happy way. A happy way is got by learning how to use our faculties."

WOMAN IS INJURED

While dealing with her husband and Mr. C. Woodhams of Tulelake, a relative, Mrs. A. J. Woodhams, a resident of Kalamazoo, Mich., suffered a fractured collarbone last night when the automobile in which she was seated collided with the car driven by Dr. B. F. Sandow, 297 Lee street. The accident occurred at Harrison street and Grand avenue. Woodhams, at the wheel, was driving a Sandow machine as it drove to the main highway from a side street. Mrs. Woodhams was the only one injured. Both machines were badly damaged. Mrs. Woodhams is being treated at the Alamo Hotel, 644 Fourteenth street.

SKIN ABLAZE WITH ECZEMA

Constant Itching Almost Unbearable

Only those afflicted with Eczema, with its terrifying irritation and ceaseless itching know what constant torture this disease can cause. The disease appears in different ways, sometimes with a reddening and irritation of the skin, sometimes in the form of blisters. Other cases of Eczema take the form of a dry, scaly condition of the skin that cracks and peels. But no matter in what form the disease appears, it is a source of constant fiery irritation that is well-nigh unbearable.

Eczema is very often considered a skin disease. This is a natural mistake, as it attacks the skin and it is through the skin that it causes so much discomfort and suffering. But the real seat of the disease is the blood. The germs of Eczema are in the blood, and the irritated and diseased condition of the skin is the result of the germs trying to break out of the system. Beyond the use of antiseptics to promote cleanliness, there is no local treatment that will accomplish a permanent cure of this disease. And those who have been relying altogether upon salves, soaps, ointments and other local applications to the skin will find that no permanent good will come from such treatment by itself.

after all local treatment had failed. He writes:

"I suffered with a most aggravated case of Eczema, the itching being so severe that I could not sleep. I used thirteen pounds of ointment, tried nearly every skin remedy, besides being treated by two skin specialists. I am now convinced that Eczema is nothing but a blood trouble, for after taking several bottles of S. S. S. I am entirely cured."

Years of untold suffering can be avoided if the real cause of a disease can be definitely determined, and the proper method of treatment employed. Hence those afflicted with Eczema will continue to suffer as long as they consider the disease a condition of the skin, and rely solely upon local applications of salves, ointments and similar remedies. If you really want to be cured you must realize that the disease is in the blood, and you can expect relief only from treatment that is directed toward cleansing the blood of the disease germs. This is why S. S. S. is so successful in the treatment of Eczema and all other diseases of the blood; because it acts as an antidote to any impurity that finds lodgment in the blood. Being purely vegetable and guaranteed not to contain a particle of mineral substance, it is an exceptionally fine tonic, and besides eliminating from the blood all traces of impurity, it builds up and strengthens the entire system at the same time.

We invite everyone afflicted with Eczema, or other blood or skin disease, to write our medical department for advice, which is gladly given without charge. Full instructions as to how to treat your own individual case will be gladly furnished by our chief medical adviser, who is an expert on these diseases. Address Swift Specific Co., 92 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.—Advertisement.

MARKET OPENING SHOWS STRENGTH

By CHARLES W. STORM, Staff Correspondent International News Service.

NEW YORK, March 21.—The announcement that an extra session of Congress has been called for the morning of the 22nd, and the market at the opening showed pronounced strength. Later, however, realizing sales were in evidence and those issues, which had made gains, dropped to or below yesterday's closing figures.

The steel issues showed pronounced strength in the initial dealings, first sales of United States Steel common being 25,000 shares at 117 1/4 to 117 3/4, against 117 at the close yesterday, but within a few minutes the market had become quiet. The steel issues were generally in supply at concessions. United declined 1/4 to 114 1/4 and American Smelting and Refining declined 1/2 to 103 1/2, declined to 107 1/2.

The market was generally under pressure at the end of the first fifteen minutes. The marine issues were weak, the common stock of the American Marine Navigation Co. declined 1/2 to 82 1/2, and the preferred from 82 to 80 1/2.

Various groups of issues moved in opposite directions in the late forenoon. The copper issues were generally in demand, with order and demand showing pronounced strength, with Crucible Steel selling at 75 1/2, a gain of over two points, and American Locomotive jumping to 75, Lackawanna rose to 35 1/4, a gain of 1 1/2 points, and the preferred from 32 to 30 1/2.

The copper shares were generally weak, showing losses of about a point. The common stock of the American Locomotive Co. declined 1/2 to 30 1/2, and the preferred from 32 to 30 1/2.

The railway stocks were generally lower, with Reading declining from 93 1/2 to 92 1/2.

Associated Oil was moderately active at a fractionally advanced price, while Union Oil suffered a slight reaction on the market, starting higher at $24 and closing at the same level after fluctuating between $23 1/2 and $27 1/2. More than 200 shares of the issues were sold.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET

Apprehension was felt among certain dealers today that onions, at present selling for the top price of 8 cents, would advance within another week to the 10-cent stage. According to these men but five carloads of onions remain in the bay cities markets, and this small supply must last until next month, when Stockton and Australian bulbs enter the competition.

Australian onions, expected to relieve the situation this month, have not been received, and, according to the dealers, will not enter the market for another three weeks. Stockton onions are also many weeks away. A strong tone was noticeable in the morning onion market, and this, it is believed, forms the main reason for the strengthening change.

Potatoes remained at their same standard on the quotation list, although several large sales were reported. Rutabagas, present in good quantity, sold well. The heavy quality averaged $1.00 a box of 40 pounds, although a range of $1.00 to $1.50 was reported. The choice quality, somewhat inferior, sold anywhere between $1.00 and $1.50.

Apples and oranges sold well, and were reported to be strong in tone. Newtown Pippins at former prices, exchanged in large quantities. Shipping point prices affected quotations on grapes, and $2.50 to $3.00 was reported for the choice quality, and $2.75 to $3.00 for the standard quality for $1.75 to $2 and standards for $1.50 to $1.75.

Sunkist lemons sold today for $3.50 and $3.75, fancy for $3 to $3.25, choice for $2.50 and $3.00, and standards and lemons remained at their old figures.

HOUSEKEEPERS Must be Watchful

For great efforts are being made in this vicinity to sell baking powders of inferior class, made from alum and lime phosphate, both undesirable to those who require high-grade cream of tartar baking powder to make pure and wholesome food.

The official Government tests have shown Royal Baking Powder to be an absolutely pure and healthful grape cream of tartar baking powder, and care should be taken to prevent the substitution of any other brand in its place.

Royal Baking Powder costs only a fair price per pound, and is cheaper and better at its price than any other baking powder in the world.

TO SPEED COURTS

SACRAMENTO, March 21.—Four proposed constitutional amendments aimed to simplify judicial procedure and reduce court delays were introduced in the legislature today by Senator Kehoe of Eureka and Assemblyman Satterwhite of Oakland. The whole subject of court procedure was thrashed out during the legislative recess at a conference between a committee of the Senate and Assembly and members of the California Bar Association and the proposed amendments were favored by some of the participants. One amendment provides for the creation of two additional departments of three judges each, for the District Court of Appeals, one to be added to the Los Angeles district and one to the San Francisco district. Another amendment grants the Supreme Court authority to formulate and adopt rules of procedure and practice.

VIVISECTION BILL FOUGHT AND URGED

By C. E. Kunze.

STATE CAPITOL, SACRAMENTO, March 21.—This is a proud young pup today. He was responsible last night for bringing here the largest and perhaps the most notable gathering of prominent men and women that has yet appeared at a public hearing on any proposed law in this state capital.

Ray Lyman Wilbur, president of Stanford University; Professor William Ophers, dean of the Stanford medical college; Rabbi Meyer, Father Charles Ramm, Chester Rowell, Professor A. O. Lueschner, head of the department of astronomy at the University of California; Dr. George H. Whipple, director of Hooper Foundation for Medical Research, were among those brought here by Fido's yelps for help.

FIDO HAS FRIENDS.

But they were not all against little Fido. His friends—and there were hundreds of them—counted among them Supervisor Edward T. Wolfe of San Francisco, Truxton Beale, Fremont Older, Matthew McCarrie, Mrs. Rosamonde Wright and Mrs. Walter Manchester.

These were the speakers against the Prendergast bill, which has become known as the Prendergast vivisection bill, who battled with oratory and appeals against the arguments of Fido's enemies.

Assembly Bill 798, which brought here learned pundits from the two largest universities of the West, provides that impounded cats and dogs must, on demand, and on the payment of a nominal fee of 50 cents or a dollar, be turned over to incorporated universities or medical schools for the purpose of scientific research.

MANY SIGN PROTEST.

The Los Angeles Anti-Vivisection Society, the San Francisco Anti-Vivisection Society, the Society for the prevention of Cruelty to Animals and scores of individuals who oppose the Prendergast bill appeared in person with petitions signed by 50,000 to protest against this measure.

Dr. Wilbur of Stanford university was the first speaker. He said that scientific research work, upon which so much depended and which already has done so much for the human race, would be greatly impeded unless the colleges and laboratories, where it is carried on could secure readily the animals which are requested therefor. Most of these animals, he said, were now bought in the market, such as guinea pigs, rabbits, horses, etc. But the research workers also request cats and dogs for their work, and under the present conditions it is difficult to get these. When secured from private individuals it was too often the case that someone's pet dog, which had been stolen, was the victim.

The Prendergast bill, he said, would remedy this trouble by supplying uncalled-for animals, which have value into the public pound and would be killed anyway.

Chester Rowell, Fresno editor and political leader, drew attention to the curious importance of whist in the public pound and would be killed anyway.

Apparently unimportant little bill had been magnified.

OXFORD, Eng.—With a view to encouraging the colonies to do research work at Oxford the governing body of the university is considering granting the degree of Doctor Philosophiae. The new degree will probably be finally adopted this spring.

PETROGRAD.—A thousand wood-saws per month are being manufactured at the new government factories in the Ural region. Russia has hitherto obtained all her wood saws from Sweden.

BERLIN.—The new coal tax which the government plans to put in force shortly is expected to yield about $250,000,000 a year, this being figured on the basis of 500,000,000 tons output.

CHRISTIANIA.—The value of Norway's fisheries in 1916 was 146 million kroner as against 37,000,000 kroner in 1914, according to statistics prepared by the Norwegian Fishing Controller.

LOS ANGELES.—Even a bump on the head has a value in these commercialized days. Ralph Bacon, who sued the owners of an automobile striking his wagon for damages as a result of the blow on his head, was awarded $10 by a Superior Court judge.

NEW YORK.—Daniel Guggenheim, president of the American Smelting and Refining Company, and the American Smelters' Securities Company, announced today that the two companies had underwritten group life insurance for their 25,000 employees and officers.

PHILADELPHIA.—A committee for home defense was organized here, composed of representatives of the railroads, public utility corporations, industrial establishments, commercial and labor organizations and athletic and yacht clubs.

OTTAWA, Ont.—P. E. Biondi, postmaster-general, has tendered his resignation so that he can enlist in the overseas forces.

MEXICO CITY.—It is understood that President Carranza will issue a decree granting amnesty to many of those who have opposed the constitutional government.

ALBANY, N. Y.—Definite steps organizing one or more regiments of boys for military training in each of the six military training zones in New York state were taken by the state military training commission at a meeting here.

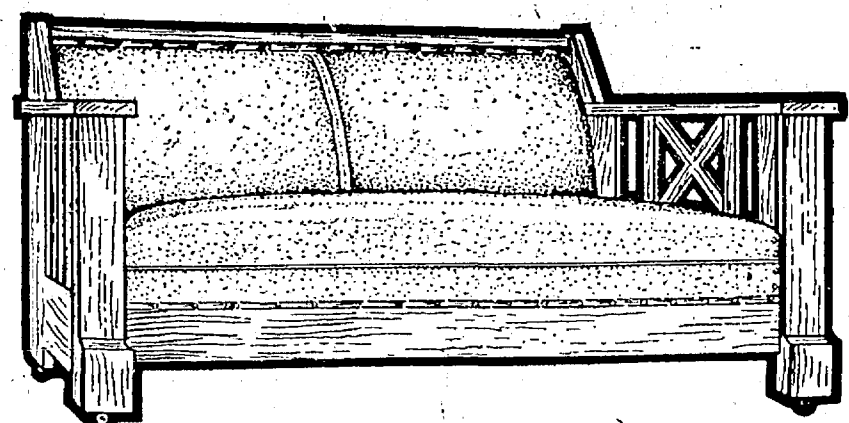

BERLIN.—The Budget committee of the Prussian Diet has approved a plan for a railroad loan of 312,000,000 marks.

BOISE, Idaho.—Claude Richards, age 22, member of the Richards family of Carey, poisoned last week by eating canned greens, died here. He is the fourth victim to succumb.

NASHVILLE, Tenn.—The convict lease system has been abolished in Tennessee by the legislature, the bill passing final reading in the Senate after action had already been taken by the lower house. The bill now awaits the governor's signature.

WASHINGTON.—Charges against seven textile goods makers of manufacturing their products as silk were dismissed by the Federal Trade Commission on assurance from the manufacturers that the practice would be discontinued.

NEWARK, N. J.—Secretary Tumulty, in an address at a dinner given in his honor here, spoke of the "infinite patience and skillful hand" with which President Wilson is guiding the destiny of the nation.
